

Ventura County Watershed Protection District

ALLUVIAL FAN FLOODING – flooding occurring on the surface of an alluvial fan which originates at the apex or bottom of a mountain slope and is characterized by high velocity flows; active process of erosion, debris flows, sediment transport, deposition, and unpredictable flow paths, including sheet flow.

RIVERINE FLOODING

